

SimplifyCareer (a unit of HUP Consultants Pvt. Ltd.) is Skill Development organization focused on providing custom training services to small and medium enterprises in tier-II & III cities. Most of our trainers come from a background that gives them command over the local and regional languages, culture and sensibilities, at the same time they practice world's latest and best practices of training human resources.

We at SimplifyCareer, recognize that every company is unique as are the internal and external challenges they face. That's why we provide flexible solutions that help our clients unlock the potential in their employees, whatever their unique situations.

While ensuring standardization in methodology, we also consciously ensure localization in delivery so that the intervention gets the maximum impact.

We offer custom training services that target our clients' specific needs and work within their existing resource structure. Whether you have no internal training department and need a training partner to take on that role, or you need additional resources and bandwidth to assist your corporate training team, SimplifyCareer is flexible — we can play whatever role you need. When skills and knowledge are determined to be impacting performance, we turn to the art and science of instructional design to create training that is relevant, engaging, and impactful.

These services can be effective in increasing the skills and knowledge of employees. SimplifyCareer builds training that ensures that participants can immediately apply their abilities on the job tomorrow and over time. Our training follows a proven instructional design, includes abundant experiential activities for skill building, provides opportunities for practice and feedback, and embeds client's products, services, policies, and other unique details to ensure that the training is transferable to the field.
